That is why we are very happy to be here. And of course, hopefully, we will be together again in 2027. With even better projects, even stronger participants, and an even better stand, we will be here again in 2027.

THE CONFERENCE PROGRAM THAT GIVES VOICE TO THE INDUSTRY

Held as part of the exhibition, the conference program addresses critical agenda topics such as next-generation solutions in the adhesives industry, sustainability, advanced material technologies, and global market dynamics. Featuring industry leaders on stage in 2025, the program will return in the 2027 edition with even more comprehensive content.

I think it is truly an impressive exhibition. With its location at the crossroads of Europe, the Middle East, and Asia, Istanbul is able to bring people together from different regions. The quality of the stands, the exhibitors, and the meetings was far beyond our expectations.
